TUESDAY 9 FEBRUARY 2027 · LINDENGATE, WENDOVER

About the day

Join the Whole Child Therapy team in Lindengate's six-acre garden for a relaxed, drop-in day all about helping wildlife through the end of winter. Make a bird feeder and a mini bug hotel to take home, explore the garden at your own pace and discover simple ways to look after the creatures we share it with.

Who it's for

Home-educating families looking for outdoor, therapeutic learning.

EOTAS families building a package of education other than at school.

Alternative Provision settings, staff and the young people they support.

Professionals - SENCOs, case officers and key workers.

What's on

Bird feeders - make one to hang in your garden or by a window.

Mini bug hotels - build a cosy home for insects from natural materials.

Sensory-rich making - threading, packing and building with natural textures.

Meet our team and find out about our nature therapy sessions.

Why help nature?

Caring for birds and insects gives children a sense of purpose and connection. Threading, packing and building offer rich hands-on sensory input, and taking something home keeps that connection going.

WHAT TO BRING

Warm, waterproof layers and wellies or sturdy boots. Bring a packed lunch, refreshments are available.

GETTING THERE

The Old Allotment Site, next to Dobbies Garden Centre. On-site parking. Put HP22 6BD into your sat nav.

ACCESS & NEEDS

Bird food may contain seeds, nuts or fat. Tell us about any allergies, sensory or access needs when you book.
